

Joe Henderson

Joe is an artist and Horticulturist at Chanticleer, interested in many aspects of craft. In the 1980s, he apprenticed as a jeweler, giving him an appreciation for finer detail in fabrication and a jewel box approach to inspiration. Joe has created many unique pieces for the garden and strives to make singular work with interesting joinery, composition, and design – like the gardens these pieces inhabit. Joe feels gardening is an art form that develops with time and never quite finished. He studied Ornamental Horticulture at the University of Delaware and worked as the Greening Program Assistant at the Delaware Center for Horticulture before joining Chanticleer’s team in 1997.
