

Katharine Startup Barrie

Katharine is an Assistant Horticulturist who delights in creating practical and pleasing structures for the garden. Nurturing her childhood passion for arts and crafts, her father taught her how to draft, weld, and finish metalwork projects after school and over the summer in his workshop in Pound Ridge, New York. Through travel and working with farmers, horticulturists, and landscape designers, she was inspired to pursue a career as a gardener and trained at the New York Botanical Garden's School of Professional Horticulture. Seeing the opportunity to combine her love of design and plants, Katharine was drawn to Chanticleer and continues to take great pleasure in enhancing the garden's beauty year-round.
